

Geez monthly donors

Because this is a reader-supported magazine

As little as 5 bucks a month from a few hundred subscribers can keep Geez magazine ad-free and Geez staff a little less anxious about fundraising.

Unlike the vast majority of magazines, we rely on reader support – in the form of subscriptions and extra donations – to make things happen. This direct reliance on an engaged community of supporters makes us ever-mindful of how to serve you – and not our corporate sponsors – best.

Our goal is to provide education and inspiration for people at the fringes of faith. We hope to empower ourselves and others to respond to injustice and patterns of destruction by speaking out when we can and taking steps to live out a more just, sustainable and beautiful vision of the world.

You can join the Geez community by reading the magazine, sending in your comments (online or on paper), holding discussions in your area and making monthly financial contributions.

With hat in hand, we're asking you, dear reader, to consider making a monthly contribution to keep alive this voice of compassion, social justice, simple living and prophetic critique (we hope).

Donors get endless subscriptions

A small donation of $5, $10 or more each month gives us a regular source of revenue and gives you an endless subscription. When you send us a check marked "void" and sign the simple form below (credit cards work too), you become a Geez Monthly Donor. You receive no further renewal notices or invoices and can cancel anytime.

Okay, so now what?

Well, if you're keen to support Geez, simply complete the form below and mail it back to us. Be sure to sign the bottom line, that seals the deal. If you wish to back out at any time (or adjust your contribution), just call or write and we'll honour your wishes.

Thank you for your ongoing support.
